Gov. Philipp Endorses
Lenroot For Senator;
Thompson Makes ReplyProgressive Candidate Says Congressman and Governor Have Long Been Political Bedfellows

In support of the candidacy of James T. Lenroot for the United States senate, Gov. Philipp today issued the following statement in which he asks that the people of Wisconsin send Mr. Lenroot to the United States senate as a man who will not only give expression of the people's heartiest support of the war but will also take the qualifications of statesmanship needed in congress after the war.

"It is a time when the people should send tried statesmen to Congress, and especially to the United States Senate.

"During the period of this war the work of congress will be mainly to legislate and to support the war. The task of managing the war is primarily with the President. The time when real statesmanship will be required will be when the Senate is called upon to ratify the peace submitted to the President, and after the war when there will be a readjustment of economic conditions not only in our own country but in the entire world.

"We should all agree to support a man with all the strength that there is in us. Upon that question there is no chance for a difference of opinion among American people. I am sure that no thoughtful citizen will send to our country a man who is the humiliation of defeat and the many misfortunes that will be associated with it.

"Therefore, the people should elect a man who will give expression of the whole-hearted support of the war upon the floor of the United States Senate. When it comes to the task of approving treaties and economic adjustments that must come after the close of the war our senator should be no man's man. He should not be controlled by his colleagues or anyone else, and that is why the real statesmanship will be required. Mere cackles in either house of Congress will be very apt to misrepresent the people.

"I believe that we may safely place our faith in Mr. Lenroot. He is an experienced legislator and has the proud distinction of being a member in the House of Representatives, which is not an easy feat for a body that is made up of the best members. He has frequently referred to as the best choice for speaker when the body shall again be re-elected.

"Attacks on Loyalty. It is a fact that are being made in this country are the same that were made upon any other Republican. It is a fact that are being made in this country are the same that were made upon any other Republican.

"The influence of a better government of the burdens of the war is no danger that distrust of our country can ever be restored upon that great political party. I saved the country from the war and I am firmly of the belief that when we reach that personal existence when our country is placed upon its feet, the people will do this will be found in the ranks of the Republican party.

"I sincerely hope that our citizens will take the larger view of the senate question in this state at this time and that they will not permit themselves to be led away from their own best interests by small political quibbles or the ambitions of small politicians or by local interests. The real issues are the war, the best interests of the nation, the future of this republic. I believe Mr. Lenroot to be the man to tie to the people will elect him."

DEFENSE BOARD

tions Against James
Thompson

In spite of the fact that Gov. Philipp recently stated that the county councils of defense would not be permitted to engage in politics, copies of a resolution adopted by the Iowa county council of defense attacking the candidacy of James Thompson were received here today.

Copies of the resolution were evidently sent out to newspapers all over the state. The Capital Times received a copy in a letter sent out by J. A. Van Netta, secretary of the council.

The resolution in part says: "Be it further resolved, that we view with disfavor the candidacy for United States Senator of James Thompson and Victor Berger, and urge each loyal American citizen of Iowa county to exercise his utmost efforts to secure their defeat both at the primary and general election."

Be it further resolved, that we unhesitatingly condemn individuals and corporations who seek to make great profits out of the conditions which war has brought upon us and we pledge our hearty support to the Congress and the President in their efforts to curtail all such profiteering.

The council is composed largely of men who have been identified with the reactionary element in Iowa county.

DRY CAMPAIGN
IS LAUNCHEDSpeakers at Rally Say Madison is Satisfied With No-License

Conditions in Madison are better since the saloons have been closed, according to speakers at the dry rally which was held at the high school auditorium last night. The meeting was the first held in the campaign to be waged to keep the city dry.

"I have never known any group of business men in any town which had been dry for a year or two years who would willingly go back to the old license system," was one of the statements of Father S. J. Dowling, former chaplain at Waupun state prison.

Father Knox of St. Patrick's church introduced the speaker, commenting on the necessity for conducting a vigorous campaign to keep Madison dry.

"I do not think a reasonable person could be found in this city," he said, "who would not say that conditions have been better since the first of July. It seems strange that this issue should be forced on us now, but I am sure that when the votes are counted there will be more for a dry Madison than there were last year. I base this conclusion on the general sentiment of the people toward conditions since last year."

Opens Up Vast Political and Economic Opportunities in Europe

(By the Associated Press)

PETROGRAD, Thursday, March 14.—The All-Russian congress of soviets, meeting at Moscow today, by a vote of 453 to 30, decided to ratify the peace treaty with the Central powers.

M. Ryazanov, a prominent Bolshevik theorist, and representatives of all the professional unions from the Bolshevik party after the vote.

The action of the all-Russian congress of soviets in accepting the German peace clears the way for announcement of allied intentions as regards Japanese intervention in Siberia and gives Germany vast opportunities for political and economic penetration of the former Russian empire.

The decision of the congress is the culmination of the peace steps begun by the Bolshevik government last December.

By the peace terms Russia must give up Poland, Courland, Livonia, Esthonia and the Ukraine. In Asia Minor the Russians are compelled to retire from Armenia and to cede to the Turks the Russian districts of Batumi, Kars and Erivan.

Russia must renounce all claims to the occupied territories in Europe. Germany and Austria-Hungary to decide the fate of those regions in agreement with their populations. The Russian army must be demobilized and Russian warships are to be disarmed.

More important to the Central powers is the re-opening of navigation in the Black and Baltic seas and the signing by Russia under compulsion of a new commercial treaty, with guarantees of a most favored nation treatment, at least until 1925. The Bolsheviks also promised to put an end to all propaganda and agitation within the Central empires and in occupied territories under their control.

CONFERENCE AT KIEV.

The Ukrainian Rada, the dispatch says, will meet soon to ratify the peace treaty with the Central powers.

The ships will be pooled by the allied governments in the common cause. The Dutch crews are expected to remain with them.

Succumbs at His Home in

SPENT QUIET NIGHT

Death Due to Infirmities of Age; Prominent in State Politics

(By the Associated Press)

MARINETTE, March 15.—Former United States Senator Isaac Stephenson died early this morning.

His condition suddenly grew worse yesterday and physicians expressed doubt for his recovery, but later in the day he rallied and last night was resting comfortably.

Former United States Senator Stephenson was one of the best known men in Wisconsin politics. He has always taken an active interest in the development of the state and his story of how he rose from poverty to one of wealth has attracted wide attention. Following his retirement from the United States senate in 1916, Senator Stephenson wrote his autobiography which immediately attracted attention because of the heretofore unpublished information regarding the lumbering conditions of the state during the past fifty years. Senator Stephenson was a republican.

Isaac Stephenson was born in York county near Fredericton, N. B., Brunswick, June 18, 1829. His early life was spent in assisting his father who was a farmer and a lumberman. A short time was spent at public schools, but most of his education is the result of observation and experience. At the age of fourteen years he moved to Bangor, Me., but shortly thereafter came west, locating at Milwaukee. After a few years spent in unsuccessful farming, he transferred his operations to lumbering in the northern peninsula of Michigan. His earliest work in the field was contracting for putting in logs in the winter, while during the summer, he carried freight to Chicago and Milwaukee by boat. When the first land office was opened in northern Michigan in 1848 Mr. Stephenson and his associates purchased large tracts of timber lands on the Escanaba, Ford and Sturgeon rivers and on Big Bay de Norquet. In 1857 he discontinued contracting logs and engaged in the manufacture of lumber. Since that date his business operations have grown rapidly until today he is one of the most extensive lumber manufacturers in the United States.

In addition to its manufacture, he maintains large yards for the wholesale and retail distribution of lumber and is also heavily interested in the manufacture of paper. Mr. Stephenson is also a banker and owns a model dairy and stock farm. His business interests are centered in Chicago, Milwaukee and at his home city, Marinette. Politically he has been a Republican since the organization of that party. He was a member of the assembly in 1866 and reelected in 1868. In 1882 he was elected to congress and served three terms when his business affairs required his declining a renomination. In 1880 and 1892 he was a delegate to the Republican national convention. In 1900 he was delegate-at-large to the Republican national convention at Philadelphia; elected delegate-at-large to Chicago convention in 1904 and was chairman of the delegation. In 1903 he was elected delegate-at-large to the primary election to the national convention at Chicago. May, 1907, Mr. Stephenson was elected to the United States senate to serve for the unexpired term of Hon. John C. Spooner, resigned. His term of office expired March 4, 1909. He was reelected March 4, 1909. His term of office expired March 4, 1915. Since then he has made his home at Marinette.

No arrangements have been made for an official delegation to attend the funeral of the late Isaac Stephenson of Marinette. Gov. Philipp left here for Milwaukee early this morning and at the time he departed was unaware of the death of the senator. Speaker Whitteit said Gov. Philipp would probably attend the funeral.

WAR SUMMARY

(By the Associated Press)

One year ago today Emperor Nicholas abdicated as autocrat of Russia and yesterday the all-Russian congress of soviets by an overwhelming vote agreed to German peace terms.

German militarism takes from the present Russian government thousands of square miles of land and millions of inhabitants contained in the former imperial territories of Finland, Poland, Courland, Lithuania, Esthonia, Livonia and the Ukraine in Europe and Batoum, Kars and Erivan in the Caucasus. The Russian army must demobilize, the Russian fleet is interned and favorable trade agreements are to be given Germany and her allies.

Announcement of allied policy toward Russia and of Japanese intentions in eastern Siberia probably will follow quickly the news that the Lenine government after four months of rule, has surrendered completely to the demands of Germany and opened up the vast European and Asiatic territories to German economic and military penetration.

The question of Japanese intervention in Siberia has brought from Foreign Secretary Balfour, in the British house of commons, the declaration that he had every confidence in Japan's loyalty in any action it might be decided to take in the Far East. Japan, he said, would act as the friend of Russia and as the emissary of the entente governments in helping Russia to combat German penetration and save the revolution.

American troops have made their first permanent advance into the German positions on the western front. Northeast of Badonvillers, in the Luneville sector, trenches which the enemy was forced to abandon have been consolidated with the American first line. Repeated American raids on this sector and the effective work of the American gunners forced the Germans to give up the trenches. German efforts to regain the lost positions were repulsed by General Pershing's men.

The new position gives the American and French troops higher ground from which to operate against the common foe. Badonvillers is eight miles west of the German frontier and is almost directly west of Strassburg, capital of Alsace. The American position here is about eighteen miles southeast of the Rhine-Marne canal where the Americans first entered the trenches last November.

On both the Luneville and Toul sectors the American artillery has been firing many shells into the German positions. Northwest of Toul, German plans for a gas attack again were frustrated when the American gunners destroyed four groups of gas projectors which had been placed in position. German batteries, trenches, wire entanglements and other military targets are being harassed by the heavy fire of the Americans.

Fighting activity on the British front from Ypres south toward Arras continues at a sharp pitch. On the hitherto quiet sector between Armentieres and Vermelles, about fifteen miles, the German artillery fire continues intense, as it has been for several days past. A strong German detachment attempted a raid on this front but was thrown back by the Portuguese. On the southern end of the Ypres sector, Australian troops have been successful in raids into enemy lines and in repulsing German raiding parties. There has been heavy artillery firing on the French front and the French have repulsed three German raids.

Excess Profits and Excess Incomes Must be Conscribed to Pay for the WarJames Thompson for United States Senator

Primary, Tuesday, March 19

Born in Green County, Wisconsin, 1875. Graduated from the University 1899, Law 1901. Lawyer at La Crosse since. District Attorney two terms. Delegate-at-large to Republican National Convention. Able, broad-minded and competent. A vote for him is a vote against war profiteering.

Thompson's Platform

1. A united country to prosecute the war vigorously and efficiently until peace shall be declared.
2. Congress to declare promptly our aims and purposes in war.
3. Freedom of the seas.
4. No secret diplomacy.
5. Gradual disarmament of the nations.
6. A congress of nations to settle international disputes.
7. The free press, free speech and peaceable assembly guaranteed by the constitution. Since war has been declared, it is the duty of all citizens to support it, and they have the right to discuss freely war aims, terms of peace and the conduct of the war.
8. Public ownership of railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, necessary alike in war and peace.
9. No corporation or individual should be allowed to profit by the war. I favor the government taking war profits and excessive incomes for the support of the war. Any policy which takes but a small proportion of war profits and surplus incomes in times of war compels excessive bond issues and imposes large and unnecessary burdens upon the people.
10. I am against any imperialistic plan to burden the people permanently with a large military establishment.
11. I demand that the farmer, wage-earner and small dealers shall not be discriminated against and required to bear an unjust share of the burdens of the war.

CASH AND CARRY PLAN SUCCESSFUL

Schenk-Huegel Co. Work Out Modified System That Pleases Customers

A practical and efficient cash and carry system has been worked out by the Schenk-Huegel company, and after three weeks of trial, they are ready to declare it not only economically sound, but satisfactory to their customers as well.

The basic principle of the system is cash and carry with a corresponding credit is given with a one percent addition to the amount of the bill if it is not paid in 30 days. That amount means that an account which is paid every two weeks or 30 days is regarded the same as cash.

"Credit is in some cases a necessity," said Mr. Schenk, "but by making a penalty for not paying within a certain specific time, accounts are kept up to date and our books would be in a condition to liquidate every month."

Sometimes it is impossible for the housewife to come to the store for her supplies, so the carry plan has been modified to suit the needs. Deliveries are made of orders of more than $1. The cost of delivery is figured at from 3 to 3½ percent of the general expense.

"The plan of charging five cents for delivery does not cover the expense," Mr. Schenk explained. "It undoubtedly makes people send larger orders, but our plan of not delivering orders of more than $1 does that also. The stores which are now delivering the way they used to without charge are losing in the long run, and are not taking advantage of the opportunity given them by the government."

TO SHOW ARMY MOVIES

On Monday evening the public will be given an opportunity to see free of charge, the work of different contingents of the country. Seven reels of pictures have been obtained by the County Council of Defense and will be shown on the screen under the rotunda of the capitol at 7 o'clock, on Monday evening.

TO GIVE READINGS

HIGH PRICE OF FEED CUTS MILK PRODUCTION

Farmers Say Marketing Costs More Than Returns From Industry

HEARING AT CAPITOL Special Legislature Committee Investigates Situation in Wisconsin

"The farmers are selling their cows because the price of milk does not cover the cost of production," was the statement of S. P. Reese, Rock county, representing the Associated Farmers' company of Clinton at the two-day hearing on the milk situation which was opened in the senate chambers yesterday afternoon. The hearing is called before the legislative joint committee on marketing which is composed of Senators G. C. Skogmo, A. Kueckuk and Assemblymen R. Young, Judge Charles Rosa, and Henry Grill, and Miles Riley, secretary. Representatives of the producers and distributors have been called to the hearing.

"One farmer told me," said Mr. Reese, "that if he had sold off his cattle last fall and taken his easy during the winter he not only would have received $30 a head more for them but would have been $1,750 ahead now. Dairy companies that were producing 1,100 tons of milk have dropped to 400 and 500 tons in the last six months. The weather conditions and the kind of feed were the partial cause of this drop. But the cutting down in the raising of calves is the principal cause."

The comparative costs in grains for the season of 1916 and 1917 and the difficulty of getting bran at any price were cited by Mr. Reese in showing the causes for the increased cost of production.

F. T. Holt, president of the Chisago read reports of the way the federal milk commission for Chicago determined the price of milk. Questionnaires sent out by the commission to the farmers and dairymen to determine the actual cost of the herd to them, were read.

The investigation was continued today, with Frank T. Holt, Knosha, president of the Chicago Milk Producers' association appearing as the principal witness.

Mr. Holt offered in evidence upwards of 6,000 pages of testimony taken at the Chicago investigation. He read letters from farmers and auctioneers showing that farmers were selling their dairy cattle, because of the low price of milk. Holt presented information to the committee showing that the actual cost of producing milk varied from $2.50 to $5.00 a hundred.

CASUALTY LIST TOO LONG FOR RELEASE TODAY

Department Says Roll of Honor Will be Longest Issued

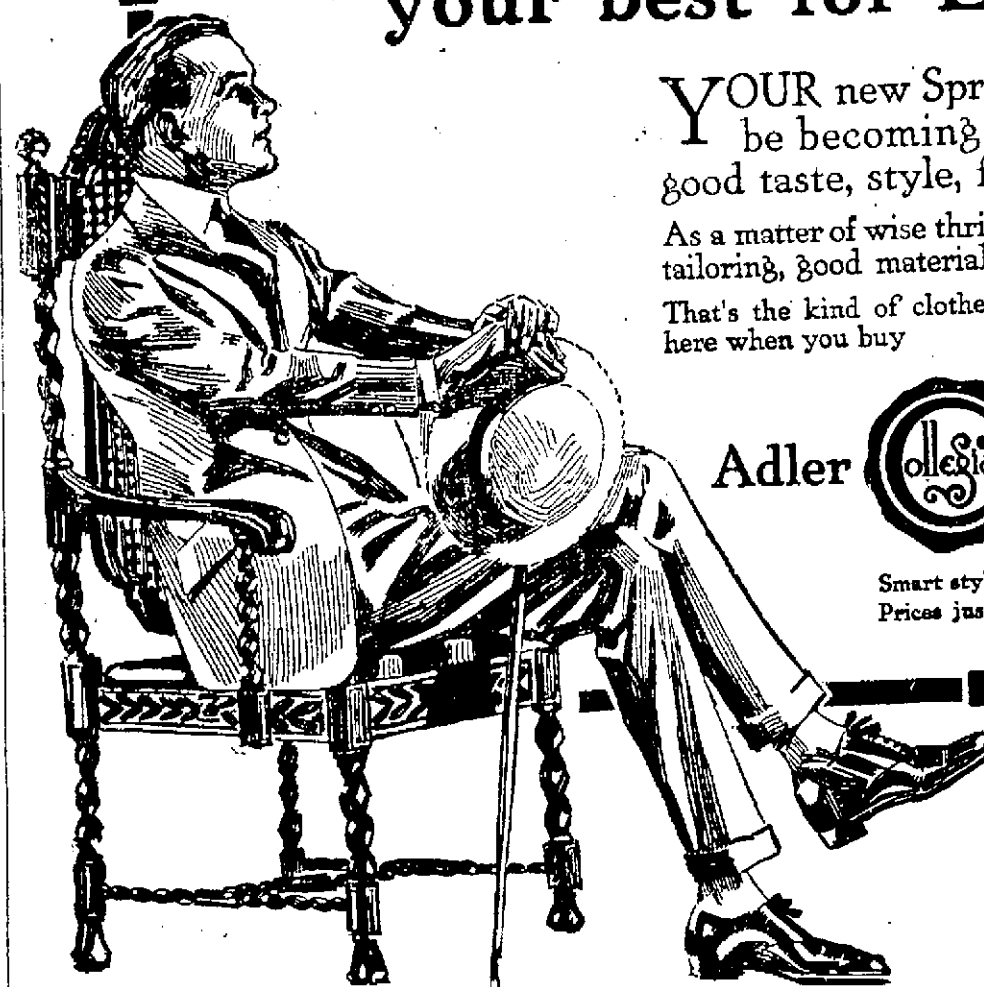

SHOWS HEAVY FIGHTING American Troops Now Waging Active Offense Against Germans

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 15.—General Pershing's casualty list today, it is learned at the war department, will be longer than any previously issued and for that reason may not be available for publication before tomorrow morning. There is no outward indication of what a casualty list indicates, although American troops in the last few days have been active in an offensive against the German trenches.

Here's our explanation of the Schenk-Huegel Plan

We earnestly ask you to give it careful reading and study. We reduced our grocery prices in accordance with the request of the Dane County Food Administration by the Cash and Carry System. We added also 5 cents for delivery and 5% for charge accounts.

When this restriction was removed, we did not feel inclined to go back to the OLD prices; rather we sought to maintain the "cash and carry" prices; we wanted to give our customers the benefit of every reduction we possibly could.

WE EVOLVED THIS PLAN:—Those customers who are paying their accounts in at least every 30 days we consider the same as CASH accounts. (Many pay us twice a month on paydays.) On the balance of every account at the end of the month, we add 1% charge.

Thus those who are paying their accounts every 30 days are getting a NET SAVING of 3%—and we DELIVER FREE all orders of $1 or over.

Under the old system of carrying accounts for unlimited time and extending credit promissuously no dealer could possibly "cut prices" and survive—the cash customer had to help carry the load of the bad account.

WE HAVE ELIMINATED THIS FEATURE:—by adding 1% to all overdue accounts every 30 days.

In order to maintain our plan now, we must have the co-operation of our trade—in other words, we must have all accounts paid every 30 days. It will mean much to our customers; it will make a wonderful difference in the amount of money you spend in a year for groceries.

WE SOLICIT CHARGE ACCOUNTS ON THIS BASIS

If you do not fully understand our plan, we would be very glad to have you call at our store and we will be glad to go fully into detail with you.

A remarkable gold strike is said to have been made in the town of Bravos and miners are stampeding there by the thousands, the rush has almost completely depopulated the town of La Mesa, Arizona, famous for the gambling room run by awoman known as "The Tigress" who will find her opportunity for gun play restricted and the sheriff will be able to sleep nights without worrying about another murder by this famous woman; how the Tigress evolves into a noble woman through the power of love and the influence of a good man, is powerfully portrayed by Texas Guinan and a notable cast of Triangle players in "The Gun Woman" the attraction at the Majestic today.

ORPHEUM

Victor Moore, the former musical comedy star who has appeared in Madison many times in popular plays, and who recently has taken to the field of moving pictures is the headline number on the Orpheum bill for this week-end. He is a clever monologue artist, and carries a line of props which adds to his number.
Howard Mack and Henrietta Lane put on a good song and dance act, while Edythe and Eddie Adair have a boot shop setting for many clever lines.
Dick Henry and Carrie Adelaide open the show with a dancing act in a novelty setting. The Royal Gascoignes who have been seen here before, conclude a well balanced bill with a feature balancing and juggling act.

NEWS NOTES MOVIELAND

Claire Whitney says that her association on the film with such distinguished actors as Charles Richman, Edmund Bresse, Robert Edeson and William Farnum, has done more than anything else to assist in her development and to win her a popular reputation.
Miss Whitney must be a bit more modest than most, for the average film fan would tell her that her own exceptional ability and charm are the reasons why she has been successful. She before entering the movies had received excellent training in the best schools of all, stock companies, and had also had a varied experience on tour and in vaudeville.
Miss Whitney is to play the part of Lucy Daniels in the Graphic Film Corporation's forthcoming "Moral Suicide," a scenario by Ivan Aramson, that is said to be filled with the pleasant touches of pathos and comedy and offering Miss Whitney a role that she has handled with a very delicate art.

Florence Miller, wife of the Hon. William De La Poer Beresford, brother of Lord Decies, has been playing in photo plays on this side of the water ever since her husband joined the British army. "Rasputin, the Black Monk," with Montagu Love featured, saw her under the name of Florence Beresford. Since then she has acted in other World productions, one of them being in support of Carlyle Blackwell in "His Royal Highness."

E. K. Lincoln, who went to California recently with the avowed intent of making a single production for W. Christie Cabanne, evidently has decided to cast his lot in the Hollywood territory. Lincoln has sent to his eastern representatives asking them to close his home on the Atlantic coast and to ship his two motor cars to him. His last picture before his departure was "The Beloved Traitor."

Evelyn Greely, a former Chicago girl, and an actress in many plays, has signed with World to support Carlyle Blackwell during the coming year.

Jane Grey has returned to the stage for the time being, enacting the leading role in "Eyes of Youth" at the Maxine Elliott theater, New York. The part formerly was played by Marjorie Rambeau, who was forced to retire from the cast a few days ago after she had sustained a broken ankle while ice skating. Miss Grey will remain with the production until Miss Rambeau is entirely recovered.

Guy Bolton, who with Pelham G. Wodehouse is one of our busiest little playwrights, has turned aside from coupon-clipping and royalty estimating long enough to construct a film play. It is entitled "Marriage." Catherine Calvert will be starred in it by Frank A. Kenney.

In the collection of paintings at the museum this week, those of Warren Davies and John Wenger, the impressionist. The paintings are beautiful and graceful, with rather somber colors of green, blue and orange.

The paintings of the impressionist, Mr. Wenger are beautiful but of a melancholy nature. "Shadows," "The Garden," "Moonlight Sonata," are paintings of exceptional beauty in coloring and harmony.

The nymphs of Mr. Davies are dainty and exquisitely finished by a fading softness of outline that finally ends in a mist of coloring.

Of special interest are the drawings of Kenneth John Conant of Two Rivers. Mr. Conant won the Riggers' Traveling Fellowship in Fine Arts at Harvard and studied in France until the United States joined the allies, when he enlisted.

AMUSEMENT SAMUSEMENT

Mr. Conant is 18 years old, and shows remarkable talent. Dutch Cartoons which belong to Prof. Arnold Dresden of the mathematics department of the university, are also in exhibition. Professor Dresden will give a lecture "Dutch War Cartoons" in the auditorium of the State Historical museum, March 19, at 4 p. m.

Two Badgers On All-Conference Five; Madison High Plays Portage

Chandler and Simpson Are Given High Ranking In All-Conference Five Selections

Badger Players Secure Places With Little Doubt on Capital Times Five

First Team.
Anderson, Illinois, Forward.
Gillen, Minnesota, Forward.
Chandler, Wisconsin, Center.
Simpson, Wisconsin, Guard.
Ellingwood, Northwestern, Guard.

Second Team.
Markley, Purdue, Forward.
Underhill, Northwestern, Forward.
Gorgas, Chicago, Center.
Church, Purdue, Guard.
Von Lackum, Iowa, Guard.

By Frank T. Tucker.
Two of Wisconsin's best, William Chandler and Eber Simpson, deserve places on an honor team above any basketball players in the conference and they are placed with confidence that the choice cannot be disputed, on the first team of The Capital Times' all-conference selections. With one or two exceptions, the selection of a team from this year's field of Big Ten material is not an altogether difficult proposition. Most of the teams have been in somewhat the same situation as Wisconsin. The war has disrupted them generally, and there were very few stars in the field. The closeness of the games throughout the season proves that most of the teams were devoid of stars, and the few that shone out here and there in the west are the only available material for an all-star team.

Chandler at Top.
The first team selected above contains a fair roll-call of the few really brilliant players on the western teams this year. The Badger captain stands out above them all, not only as a crack shot, even when covered by the closest guarding conference coaches have been able to teach their men, but in his general team leadership, and his battling spirit that kept the Wisconsin team ahead through the trying season, and brought the Badgers out on top of the race.

Chandler is placed at center, his logical place. He is a good forward, but he is an ideal center, and from that position his ability to guide and lead the game is best brought into play. Gorgas was almost a match for him, but the Maroon center was not as consistent as trying conditions as did Chandler a team that could win consistently. Kingsley of Minnesota is another great center as material goes this year, but the Badger captain has them all outclassed, and deserves the unequalled selection as the leader of an honor team of 1918 Big Ten players.

Eber Simpson is the only other Badger whose playing has stood above the work of the host of other conference guards. Eber has developed marvelously. Badger fans will never forget the first few games Simpson played in a Cardinal basketball suit, when, as a substitute, Dr. McNeill sent him in to play in some of the contests last year.

Eber Has Developed.
Simpson was a football player then. He had not mastered basketball, and great was the amusement of the crowd at these games, when he would tuck the ball under his arm and dash down the floor for a basket as though he were circling left and for a touchdown.

But Eber is not a quitter. He stuck at the game, and when the fouls were called on him repeatedly he just set his Oshkosh jaw, and made up his mind he was going to master that game. Now Eber has mastered pretty nearly every game he ever attempted and basketball is no exception. Under the watchful and corrective eye of Guy Lowman he developed game by game during the past season, until, now at the end of the basketball year, he ranks as one of the two best guards in the west. He plays a hard smashing game, and his best little habit is intercepting passes. This was one of the factors of his athletic ability that earned him a position as all-conference quarter-back on almost all of the honor elevens last fall, and his ability to nab the ball from out of the waiting arms of many an expectant but disappointed opponent is uncanny.

This work of intercepting opposing passes was one of the greatest factors in winning the title this year, and Eber had monopoly on it as far as the rest of the team was concerned. Ten and fifteen times in a game he would change the Badgers' play from defense to offense, and frequently, after stealing the ball, he would can one of those unbelievable shots that brought him fame in the last few games of the season.

Ellingwood of Northwestern, who had some of Simpson's habits along this same line, is given the other guard position, and the rapid-action Purple defensive player was the mainstay of both offense and defense on the Northwestern five. It was Ellingwood who defeated Wisconsin in the first Big Ten game of the season, and it was not until Simpson had developed into a match for him, and even his superior, that the Badgers were able to turn the tables on Northwestern.

Ellingwood vs. Hinkle.
The Northwestern team would not be in its present position if it were not for this same Ellingwood. Underhill while usually the star of the

TWO LOCAL FIVES IN LAKESHORE MEET

The Pan Dandies and Frank's Restaurant five will roll at the Lakeshore tournament on Sunday, March 24, according to the dates received by the captains of the teams. These are the only local teams entered so far in the tourney, and are expected to land in the money if they bowl in their usual form.

AUGIE TAKES SECOND FROM CANNEFAX

CHICAGO, March 15.—Auggie Kieckhefer, champion, outplayed Robert Cannefax, 54 to 50, in the second block of the three cushion billiard match at Chicago for the world's title. Cannefax, however, leads in the total for two nights, 190 to 96.

JUNIORS DEFEAT TURNERS

The Turner basketball team was beaten last night by the St. Raphael junior five by a score of 19 to 17. The game was close and fast throughout. The lineup and summary:

St. Raphael Turners
Ahern of Swenson
Casey if Smoke
Smith c Oldenberg
Donovan g Frank
Pich lg Kees

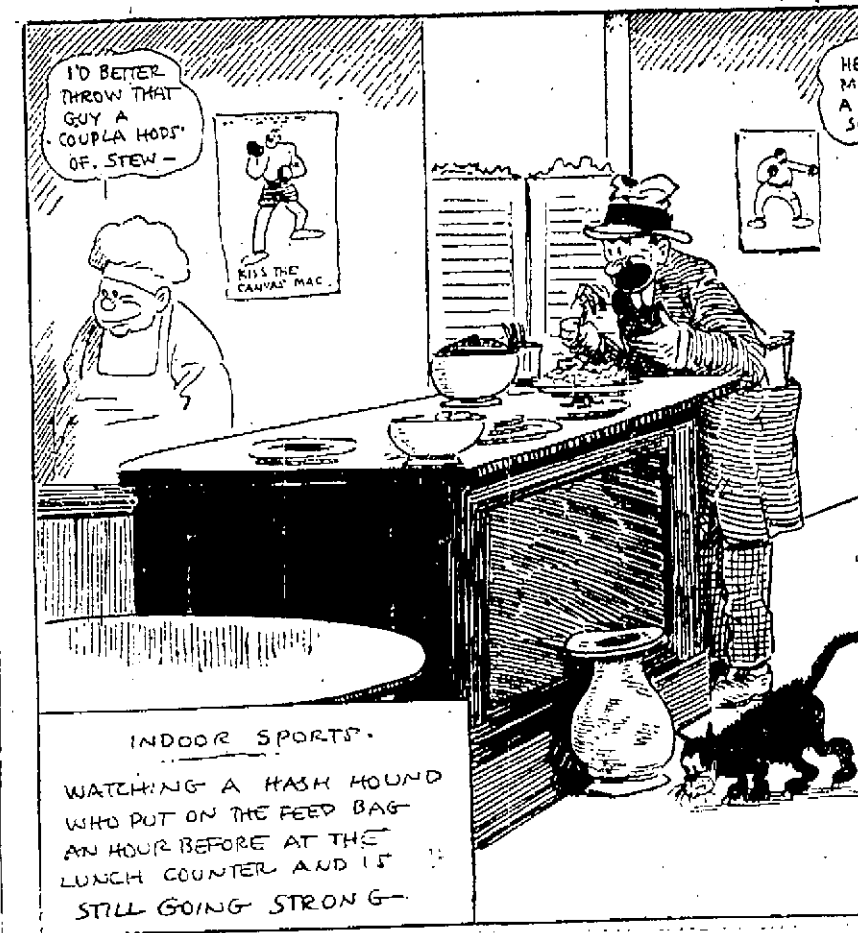

Northwestern game assumes too much of the game himself, and is disrupting to good teamwork. Ellingwood, however, knows when to keep in the background and when to take the limelight. He plays an ideal running guard, but is also such a close defensive player and so adaptable that he would make an ideal teammate for Simpson. Church of Purdue and Hinkle of Chicago are two very strong guards. Church plays other positions, and his work at guarding Chandler in the Badgers' last game with Purdue was remarkable. He, like both Simpson and Ellingwood is a good scorer. In fact, all of the better guards in the field this year, are running guards, and the best solution for the problem of picking a team of the best men that would still make a good playing combination, would be to allocate the work of the guards. This to Ellingwood and Simpson could do to perfection, and Church and Hinkle who are placed on the second team, should be able to make the same ideal sort of an arrangement should they be playing together. Hinkle is almost deserving of a position on the first team. He is, perhaps, the strongest man at pure guarding in the conference. His men have made very few baskets off him, and occasionally he has managed to locate some winning baskets. But the longer experience of Ellingwood, although he is a running guard should give him the place on the paper team.

Anderson a Star.

Anderson of Illinois leads the Conference in shooting baskets, and Gillen of Minnesota, up to the time of his injury in the Iowa game, was a top-notch in this respect. These two men represent the main strength of their respective teams, but their scoring ability is more marked than that of any other players in the conference. As it is up to the forwards in most cases to do the heaviest part of the scoring, these two stars take the honor places at forward. Coaches, officials and newspaper men are almost united in giving Anderson and Gillen the positions, and the best proof of their qualifications for the rank is their basket shooting record.

Markley and Underhill take the forward places on the second team. Underhill was the star of the Purple team this year, and although not a successful leader in all ways, he deserves a place on one of the honor teams. Markley was off color in the Purdue-Wisconsin game, but one game must not be taken as a basis for picking a man for an honor team. Markley has played a consistent game most of the season and would make a good teammate for Underhill.

BIG LEAGUE BALL COMING IN FRANCE

American and National League Race to be Settled Overseas

TO BE NATIONAL PASTIME
Frenchmen Take to American's National Sport and Will Adopt It

CHICAGO, March 15.—Sailors of the Atlantic fleet are going to stage an American and National league pennant race of their own in France this summer. President Johnson, of the American league, was advised of the baseball venture across the sea in a letter today from Lamar R. Leahy, commander of an American squadron now on duty in European waters.

The American league, President Johnson announced, will completely equip the eight ships of Commander Leahy's squadron to become the national game of France, as it is in America, after the game becomes thoroughly introduced, Commander Leahy believes.

"The game is receiving a great deal of attention in France," he wrote. "All of the service organizations have teams and a great deal of rivalry has sprung up among the various units."

Pete Reif says that anyone wishing to bowl him on any alleys any time, and any place, can find his phone number in the telephone book. To our notion, Pete's is a number that can't be forgotten for he has a habit of bowling considerable over 600.

O'Connell and Meyers are at least leading the Park league. Chili Als lost two games Tuesday evening, and lost the lead by one game. They will be back on top in a day or so, however, mark our word.

William Freund is sure hitting the pins lately. His only difficulty seems to be in locating the head pin with his first ball.

John Kenney says he is getting spring fever. His bowling shows it.

Franz Kleinheinz got 259 the other evening. He must have used four balls each frame.

Tom Booth predicted a win over the Novelty Five Thursday night. But he must have forgotten his new suspenders.

Matt Zwank is quite a bowler. When he gets his feet twisted it is hard to tell on which alley he intends to bowl. We would suggest that he practice in Tony Metz's private alley.

Matt Lavin has one arm longer than the other. Matt's right arm must have got longer from pulling in rammy pots.

Joe Blid is getting out a patent hair-cutting machine. Joe got his knowledge of machinery from pushing a lawn mower, and his invention ought to be a success.

RELAY MEET AND "W" DANCE TONIGHT

Carnival in Athletic Annex Brings Out Large Number of Athletes

The stage is all set for the annual "W" men's relay carnival which will open with a track meet tonight in the athletic annex at the university and close with the annual "W" dance at Lathrop hall.

Sororities, fraternities, and literary societies are entered in the relay events that will feature the program and this meet always brings out the largest number of students for athletic competition during the year. The sororities will be there to cheer their representatives taken from the varsity track team, and the competition between the fraternities for first place is hot. After the meet the "W" dance will start in Lathrop hall, and will be the only big athletic dance of the year.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, March 15.—Liberal receipts and weather favorable for the crop movement led to further declines today in the corn market. Absence of shipping outlets to the east counted also a bearish factor. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/4 to 3/4 lower, with March 1.27 1/2, and May 1.26 to 1.26 1/2, were followed by a material drop. General commission house selling carried down values of oats. Reports indicating increased acreage being seeded handicapped the bulls. After opening 1/2 to 3/4 off, the market underwent a moderate additional setback. Provisions sympathized with the weakness of grain. Besides, the hog market was lower.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
CHICAGO, March 15.—Larger receipts of hogs than had been looked for had a depressing effect today on hog values. Offerings of cattle and sheep did not appear excessive.

UNIVERSITY MEN NOT INDIFFERENT

Y. M. C. A. Worker Tells Conference Students do Share in War

That this war will jolt us out of our easy living and give us a new, more stern conception of sacrifice, brotherhood and duty was the keynote of an address by David R. Porter, general secretary of the International Y. M. C. A., yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium. "This year each one of us should be looking closely in his heart to find the moral equivalent of war, and seek a justification for being here," said Mr. Porter. "It is well for us to remember that the end is not yet. Many insistent calls for sacrifice are coming every day. Is this not a hard task, a real burden to remain here? Is it going to be possible for us to live in the same world with the men who have not counted life itself most dear but have given their all? There is a vast unrest sweeping the country—a feeling that there must be something for each one of us to do. We must face this opportunity of staying in college, we cannot regard this school year as we have regarded the year before. If we do, then we cannot look into the faces of the men who return." Mr. Porter disputed the statement that in most of the universities there that many of the college men were were but 50 per cent and less of the men students in attendance.

Mr. Porter is one of the leaders in the religious conference for students which is being conducted for four days, the purpose of these meetings is to discuss the moral and spiritual side of the men and women who remain at home, and so aid them in meeting the problems of reconstruction after the war.

Today's Poultry Lesson

DO YOUR BIT

Every family having sufficient land—and a back lot will do—can do its bit by keeping a war flock of standard-bred poultry and having a war garden in 1918. The production of food is our second line of defense, and by doing your bit in food production you are helping to win the war. If you cannot be in the trenches doing other war work, you can help out on food production. Even though you grow only a part of the food required by your own family, you are helping the cause of the United States and her Allies by just that much. It is not only showing your patriotism, but it is also demonstrating the good sense of self-protection and self-preservation—for we are likely to experience the pinch of food shortage by the close of 1918 more keenly than ever before. Every pound of food produced and saved at home means that much more food from national sources that can be utilized for feeding our fighting men and our allies. Every egg, every chicken produced, every home garden well cared for, means more wholesome food in a time when food is going to be sorely needed. Food will win the war, so say all our agricultural and military experts, and they also tell us that the shortage of food throughout the world is most alarming. We don't urge you to produce poultry and eggs in garden truck—a commercial boys must have eggs to help to build them safely back to health and strength. Already the back-lot poultry keepers of England have supplied their wounded with millions of new laid eggs from well kept flocks. Can we in the United States do less?
